

We are holding a special exhibition,

Hokusai - Floral Glory

The flowers of the four seasons at their finest!

from March 15th (Tue) - May 22nd (Sun), 2022

Exhibition Overview

“ The flowers of the four seasons at their finest! ”

You will enjoy, through these depictions of flowers, experiencing this culture of floral delight of Hokusai in the Sumida Hokusai Museum.

Flowers, beloved since the dawn of human history, have been the chosen subjects of countless paintings. This exhibition presents a superb selection of them, about a hundred works depicting flowers — cherry blossoms, of course, and many others — by Hokusai and his students. Flowers enjoyed in blossom-viewing parties, flowers that figured in familiar stories, flowers as designs applied to kimono or tools and equipment of many sorts: this exhibition introduces works with flowers that are a beloved part of every aspect of life. Through these depictions of flowers, you will enjoy, we hope, experiencing this culture of floral delight.

Exhibition Composition

- Section 1. Spring Is Sprung: Early Spring Flowers
- Section 2. Cherry Blossoms: Spring in Full Bloom
- Section 3. Colorful Flowers of the Seasons
- Section 4: Floral Designs Adorning Daily Life

Section 1. Spring Is Sprung: Early Spring Flowers

In this print, an old man is depicted scattering ash to make the flowers bloom, little by little, on the branch below.

This legendary character is usually associated with cherry blossoms, but here the artist has depicted plum blossoms. The uguisu (bush warbler) at the upper right seems to be staring downwards, as though waiting for the flowers to bloom.

Sonsai Kōitsu, The Old Man Who Makes Flowers Bloom, The Sumida Hokusai Museum (1st term)

Section 2. Cherry Blossoms: Spring in Full Bloom

After planting cherry trees there began in earnest in the Kyōhō era (1716-36), it became one of the finest cherry-blossom-viewing spots in Edo.

Its setting, Gotenyama, is in today's Kita Shinagawa, Shinagawa City, Tokyo. This print is one from the series Thirty-six Views of Mount Fuji, ōban nishiki-e depicting the mountain from many locations.

Katsushika Hokusai,
Mount Fuji from Gotenyama at Shinagawa on the Tōkaidō Road, from the series Thirty-six Views of Mount Fuji,
The Sumida Hokusai Museum (1st term)

Section 3. Colorful Flowers of the Seasons

Camellias are used as a New Year's flower because of their auspicious associations: the camellia is an evergreen tree that blooms in winter.

The artist has accented the red of the petals and of the dish by pairing them with the green of the camellia leaves.

Ryūryūkyō Shinsai, Red Overglaze Dish, from the series The Five Colors, The Sumida Hokusai Museum (2nd term)

Section 4: Floral Designs Adorning Daily Life

This book brings together Hokusai's designs for kimono with the small, detailed motifs known as komon.

In each, combinations of the crane and flowers are turned into designs. The narcissus version, however, differs from the others in the realistic depiction of its flower and leaves.

Katsushika Hokusai, A Book of New Patterns, The Sumida Hokusai Museum (All term)

Our efforts to prevent COVID-19.

1. We're limiting the number of people in our museums, galleries, restrooms, elevators to allow for safe social distancing.
2. We're providing hand-sanitizing stations for visitors throughout our facilities and conducting more frequent and enhanced cleaning.
The space used by customers has already been disinfected. Handrails, elevator buttons, toilet-handle, and tap, are disinfected several times a day.
3. We're requiring that visitors always wear face coverings. Our staff at the museum who meet customers, wear masks.
4. We have installed a virus splash prevention panel at the reception/museum shop.
5. To keep a safe and good environment in the building, we may restrict admission, and the staff speaks to the visitor to call attention.
6. We do not accept new reservations for group viewing.

*Please check the Sumida Hokusai Museum official website for details before visiting.
